

New Item Release_2008

Stick Electronic Calculator

A new style electronic calculator which can be used in one hand.

Because this product enables single-handed operation, you can take notes or even talk on your cellular phone with your other hand.

With button arrangement designed for easy key operation, not to mention its perfect size, stress-free operation is realized even though it is compact in size. Needless to say, it is equipped with tax calculation function and currency conversion function.

Also with clock and count down timer functions, it can be used as a kitchen timer or an alarm clock.

You can even wear it on your neck with the strap hole.

It is suitable for various purposes, both private and business use.
